Discover more about each day's ride

Day 1 – Welcome & Setup

A day to arrive, settle in, and get everything ready for the adventure ahead.

We'll pick you up at the airport and transfer you to the hotel, where you can unpack and get comfortable. Depending on your arrival time, you'll either assemble your own bike or choose and fine-tune your rental bike with our team's assistance. This first day is all about relaxing, acclimating, and preparing your gear for the trails ahead.

A welcome dinner featuring classic Argentinian flavors

Day 2 – First Ride & Local Trails

Your first taste of the terrain: flow, pace, and local culture on the pedals.

We start riding straight from the hotel toward one of the city's most popular trail areas—frequented daily by local riders. It's a 30 km ride designed to acclimate to the terrain, fine-tune the bikes, and warm up for the week ahead.

After the ride, we stop at a small local spot famous for its empanadas—a classic treat of the region. From there, we pedal back to the hotel to enjoy its amenities and relax.

Dinner at the hotel's restaurant at 8 PM, recovering energy for the next stages of the adventure.

Day 3 – High-Altitude Ride & Night by the Lake

Big mountain terrain, long descents, and a night in front of the lake.

After breakfast, a transfer takes us up to 2,200 m.a.s.l., where our ride begins. It's a 45 km route with 1,000 m of climbing and an unforgettable 1,700 m descent toward a beautiful mountain lake.

At the end of the ride, lunch will be waiting for us right by the water. That night, we stay in cozy lakeside cabins—perfect for resting, since the next day's ride starts in the same area.

Dinner with several pre-selected menu options, enjoyed in a unique natural setting.

Day 4 – Lakeside Start, Big Descents & Night Under the Stars

A day of mixed terrain, shuttle-assisted elevation, and a unique mountain campsite.

We start riding right from the lakeshore, circling the water before reaching a small nearby town. There, 4x4 shuttles pick us up and take us to the highest point of the area—2,300 m.a.s.l. From the top, we begin a long descent down to 1,400 m.a.s.l., flowing through changing landscapes and terrain. At the end of the ride, our team picks us up for a transfer to a remote mountain zone, where we spend the night in tents surrounded by nature.

A starlit dinner in the mountains—an unforgettable way to close the day.

Day 5 – High Peaks, Big Descent & Recovery Back at the Hotel

The highest point of the trip, epic descents, and a well-earned evening of recovery.

We start already deep in the mountains, riding some of the region's best and most technical trails. From there, we move toward another sector of the range, climbing until we reach the highest point of the entire tour: 3,200 m.a.s.l. From the summit, we begin a massive descent all the way down to 900 m.a.s.l., eventually arriving back at the hotel to enjoy a full afternoon of recovery after an intense day on the bike.

A meditation session and relaxing massages, followed by a campfire gathering where we share stories from the days spent riding in the mountains.

Day 6 – E-MTB Playground, After-Ride Vibes & Winery Visit

A day of endless trail options, laid-back fun, and a taste of local wine culture.

After breakfast, a transfer takes us to a new area we haven't explored yet—an exclusive zone for cyclists, known as the E-bike playground. We set up base at an old abandoned outpost, from where multiple trail options start. Riders can choose their routes depending on energy levels and how much they want to push on this final riding day. After the session, we enjoy a relaxed after-ride on-site: food, drinks, music, and good vibes before heading out.

On the way back, we visit a nearby winery for a guided tour and a tasting of their best wines—an essential part of the local culture.

Dinner at the hotel with a menu of several curated options.

Day 7 – Iconic Trails, Local Riders & The Final Descent

Classic lines, local rider culture, and one last unforgettable descent.

We start riding straight from the hotel toward the most classic MTB zones in the area—the birthplace of the region's first trails. We'll hit essential lines that no rider should miss, and along the way you'll share sections with local riders, chat, swap stories, and watch their riding techniques in their home terrain. We finish the first part of the day at a mountainside restaurant, where 4x4 vehicles shuttle us to the top of a nearby peak. From there, we ride one of the area's most iconic descents before ending back at the restaurant for a high-quality lunch. For those who still have energy, there's an optional extended descent all the way back to the city, crossing one of the largest urban parks in the country and riding the bike path back to the hotel—an amazing way to get a glimpse of local life.

Sadly, this is the last day. It's time to pack up the bikes and enjoy the hotel one final time. In the evening, we share a farewell dinner—our last night together before the trip comes to an end.
